

Question: From the perspective of man wearing a black jacket and yellow waterproof, in which direction is the dock utility box (a white box with blue accents) relative to the man?

Answer: Based on the evidence, the man faces a boat, while the white pillar with blue fittings sits along the dock rail shore-side, behind his right shoulder line. So, from his perspective, the utility box is to his right, slightly behind.

